Is Your Membership Current?

The Greater Monessen Historical Society continues to grow after twenty-two years of preserving the industrial and ethnic history of the area. Membership is fifteen dollars a calendar year for an individual, twenty dollars for a family and fifty dollars for a business. Join over five hundred of your friends and neighbors in supporting your home town historical society!

Extra donations are needed for the general operating budget, the building fund or the endowment. While the outside of the Museum Annex has been completed, the interior is still gutted and awaiting complete renovations. Heating, cooling, plumbing, and electrical work is needed. Walls need to be rebuilt. Floors and ceilings need redone. A back staircase must be installed to meet codes for occupancy. The basement (former speakeasy) needs extensive work. Please be generous! We appreciate your donations in past years and have put them to good use. The Annex will house a permanent Monessen exhibit and provide room for events, as well as space for displaying pieces of art.

Make change happen,
volunteer!

Monessen Man Passes Through English Blockade with Bank Funds and Witnesses Funeral of Emperor Franz Joseph

Many Monessen immigrants were unable to send funds to their starving families living in the territories of the Central Powers of Germany and Austria-Hungary, due to the English blockade in World War I. J. Howard Kelly, Treasurer of the Monessen Savings and Trust Company and Alfred Tanzer, Manager of the Foreign Department of the bank, decided to send Wayne Frye, a recent graduate of Washington & Jefferson College, to get through the blockade and deliver funds to the German banks. Mr. Frye departed October 24, 1916 on the steamer "United States" of the Scandinavian line bound for Copenhagen, Denmark. Eight days out, the steamer was met by a flotilla of British torpedo boats and destroyers. British marines took charge of the boat and escorted it to Kirkwall, Scotland, where the passengers were lined up to undergo a rigid examination of their papers and searched for contraband. Mr. Frye successfully passed his exam and was permitted to continue on to Denmark, while several other passengers were detained, He was then himself detained at the German border, until correspondents of a German bank issued an invitation to visit. Frye was strip-searched before being permitted to travel to the Berlin banks. Next, he had to wait for two days at the Austrian frontier, while a wounded Austrian soldier, who spoke English, acted as his interpreter. He was permitted to travel to Vienna, where he was received by the representatives of the large banking houses. Frye spent four weeks in Vienna, and was present for the funeral of the aged Emperor Franz Joseph. He also traveled to Budapest for the coronation of the new Apostolic King of Hungary, Karl, the grand-nephew of Franz Joseph. He saw long army transports moving through the towns with reserve forces heading to the front, train loads of wounded heading home for treatment and munitions being shipped to their bases. Upon leaving, he was given thirty-six hours to cross German territory and board the steamer, "Frederick" at Copenhagen on January 18, 1917 to return home to Monessen.

THOMAS HUGHES, Monessen, Pennsylvania

Thomas Hughes, 15, schoolboy, died saving J. Vernon Albrecht, 13, from drowning, Monessen, Pennsylvania, June 7, 1915. Vernon, a poor swimmer, became distressed in deep water 25 feet from the bank of the Monongahela River and called for help. He grasped a boy who went to his aid, and the boy freed himself and swam away. Thomas jumped into the water from a boat at the bank and swam to Vernon. Vernon grasped Thomas around the waist with both arms, and Thomas swam toward the boat. A boy in the boat was starting to take it to the rescue. When he got it 10 feet from the boys in the water, they were separated about five feet. The boy in the boat took Vernon on board and turned to get Thomas, but Thomas had disappeared and was drowned. [14854-1191] (Reported in the Monessen Daily Independent, April 20, 1917 -- Medal and money presented to his parents “to recite the heroic deed it commemorates and that the descendants may know and be proud of their descent”).

Monessen Loses Link to Jewish Heritage

Toward the end of 2016, Monessen lost a pillar of the Jewish community and an important part of the city's commercial history. Rosalie Ginsburg Krasik, the widow of Willard Krasik, passed away on December 16, 2016, in Bellevue, Washington, at the age of 101. The Krasik's owned the former Krasik's Furniture Store on Donner Avenue. Mrs. Krasik was the recipient of the David Ben-Gurion Award. She volunteered her time to Temple Beth Am, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Charleroi Monessen Hospital, Mon Valley Civic Music Association and Meals on Wheels, as well as being a substitute school teacher.
